ANIMAL PREPAREDNESS

Sonoma & Napa Counties

Are you, your family, & your pets prepared?

Make a Plan. Practice together.
Planning and practicing together today can help keep your animals safe during a disaster or emergency.

Will your animals come when called?
Having your animals come to you when called can save valuable time when evacuating.

Where will you take your animals?
Identify more than one evacuation route ahead of time. Know which friends, family members, boarding facilities may be able to accommodate your animals.

What if you are not home?
Choose a trusted friend, family member, or neighbor who can safely handle and evacuate your animals as your designated backup.

Can you quickly load your animals?
Practice loading dogs into the car, cats into carriers, and horses, goats, pigs, and other large animals into trailers.
